

Census of William Gilbert's De magnetē

This census includes all 481 traceable or known-to-exist copies of William Gilbert's De magnetē, in the editions of 1600, 1628 and 1633, as well as the rare 1629 issue. Each record is prepended by the copy's unique ID, prefixed by a hash symbol for better search. Then, records indicate the respective edition, the current holding institution or entity (if known), and its current shelf mark. If available, a URL to a digitized copy is added (if hyperlinks correctly resolve has not been checked after data entry comprehensively, hence links might no longer work, depending on their hosts). The following list of traced readers' marks indicates their respective edition page, set in bold if there are particularly many, dense or remarkable annotations to be found, for easier spotting. Each copy's previous provenance (if any is recorded) lists owners in descending chronological order, alongside shelfmarks and acquisition notes.

The census sorts all copies by their (known) current location, in alphabetical order by country, city, and owner, then by publication year of the edition in descending order.

An additions index listst all copies ordered by their ID with last provenance and edition for easier retrieval.

This census may be incomplete and updates are best retrieved from the respective Zenodo repository (see <https://doi.org/10.5281/zenodo.14851167>. The file mm_data_ttl.zip contains all RDF data) and via https://www.magnetic-margins.com/resource:/magnet_Copies (search for CUSTOM COPY ID). Any additions or corrections are very welcome, please use the form at <https://forms.gle/ydgDbUMstqFMejFN7> or write an email to the author at raramagnetica@gmail.com.
